GRIFIN-LAYTON.

A Prospect That the Fight May Come Off Some Time To-morrow.

Interest in the Layton-Griffin contest is at fever heat. It is rumored that it will take place to-morrow. Both men are under cover and active training has now ceased. Layton weighed 147 stripped, yesterday, and Griffin was not over a pound either way from that figure. Each will probably gain a few pounds by to-morrow, and enter the ring at about 150.

The betting in Roanoke seems to favor Layton at $100 to $80, but at Salem, where Griffin is quartered, the latter is a prime favorite and any Layton talk is looked upon as rank treason.

The training has been going on from the time the articles were signed. Each man is in prime condition, and the most absolute confidence is had on either side as to the outcome of the battle.

Tickets to the contest went on sale yesterday at 85. As the number is limited there was an active demand for them, and before night nearly all were disposed of. In case there should be anything to interfere with the contest the money will be refunded. It will undoubtedly be the most interesting and evenly contested event in the history of Southwest Virginia.

A CAMP OF TRAMPS.

Near the Stock Yards Broken Up By the Police.

It was reported to the police that a gang of tramps had made their headquarters near the stock yards, and were guilty of very disorderly conduct.

Policemen Mabry, Flick and Tally went out to the place where they were reported to be and discovered about fifteen on the top of a hill near Tinker. When the officers were within 300 yards of them, they were spied by the tramps, who made a break in the direction of Tinker creek, leaving one of their number drunk on the ground.

The officers started in hot pursuit, and came near overtaking the gang on the down-grade toward the creek. The crowd did not stop for water, but plunged in waist deep and floundered across. They then took up a steep hill on the opposite side, and when about half way up the hill the whole gang stopped suddenly and one of them drew a long navy pistol and flourished it at the officers.

The policemen opened fire on the gang, when they again broke and ran. The unfortunate member of the fraternity who got drunk was carried to police headquarters, where he gave his name as James Dawson.

The officers made a search of the locality and found a beer keg which had just been emptied and left in the woods.

They discovered several families who complained of the gang and characterized them as thieves and cutthroats. They attempt to secure meals by bulldozing women and children. Three of the same gang went to a residence yesterday morning and demanded their breakfast. The lady of the house slammed the door in their faces and locked it. The scoundrels then threatened to batter it down and cursed and abused the lady for an hour, when they left the premises.

NORFOLK.

Work on the N. & W. New Shops—Other Enterprises.

NORFOLK, July 2.—[Special]—The Norfolk and Western Railroad Company have broken ground for the erection of their immense repair shops at Lambert's Point, which will be larger than those at Crewe, Va. A large force of hands are engaged in the work of erection. The shops will be among the finest in the country and will give employment to a large number of hands.

Contracts for the erection of extensive knitting mills at Lambert's Point were made to-day. The buildings will be erected on the plan of the Atkinson idea of modern mill constructions. A similar mill will be erected in South Norfolk, and it is expected work will be begun in the course of a few days.

A power plant of vast capacity is to be started in East Norfolk, where there is in course of erection an extensive ice factory.

In northeast Norfolk a party of Ohio capitalists are about closing a contract for the building of a big brewery. They will occupy five acres of property for the works and homes for employees.

BLACKMAILERS IN LIMBO.

The Clever Work of a Texas Bank Cashier.

FORT WORTH, Tex., July 2.—[Special]—Yesterday afternoon two men went to the Merchants' National Bank, and calling cashier A. B. Smith into a private office, and of them pulled a note book from his pocket and tore two leaves out of it and handed them to Mr. Smith. The leaves contained what purported to be a detective's diary of the actions of Mr. Smith, whom the man claimed he had shadowed the day previous and traced to divers places, among them many bad resorts.

The spokesman remarked: These contain something which is very damaging to you, and if there is anything in it for me I will try to have it suppressed. Realizing that he was being jobbed, Mr. Smith drew a revolver with the remark, "You sit just where you are; you are just the fellow I want, and I have just where I want you." With this remark Mr. Smith held the parties covered and called to an employee to telephones for an officer, and the would-be blackmailers were soon landed in the station house. The men are strangers in the city.

COME SOUTH, YOUNG MAN?

President Harrison, on his tour through the South, after having seen the wonderful growth of Lynchburg, Bedford City, Roanoke, Salem, Radford, Pulaski, Wytheville and Abingdon and the industrial development in progress along the line of the Norfolk and Western railroad, and viewed the country of southwest Virginia, said in his speech to the people at Bristol, Va.:

"My Fellow Citizens: I have found not only pleasure, but instruction in riding to-day through the portion of the State of Virginia that is feeling in a very striking way the impulse of new development. It is extremely gratifying to notice that those hidden sources of wealth which were so long unobserved and so long unused are now being found, and that these regions, once so retired, occupied by pastoral people, having difficult access to the center of population, are now being rapidly transformed into busy manufacturing and commercial centers. In the early settlement of this country emigrants poured over the Alleghenies and Blue Ridge like waters over an obstructing ledge, seeking the fertile and attractive farm regions of the great West. They passed unobserved these marvelous hidden stores of wealth which are now being brought into use."

"Having filed these great basins of the West, they are now turning back to Virginia and West Virginia and Tennessee to bring about the full development and production for which time is ripe and which will surprise the world. It has not been long since every implement of iron, domestic, agricultural and mechanical, was made for you in other States. The iron point of the wooden mold bore the soil, came from distant States. But now Virginia and Tennessee are stirring their energies to participate in a large degree in mechanical productions and in the great awakening of American commerce and American influence which will lift the nation to a place among the nations of the world never before attained."

"What is to hinder us when we have secured the markets of our own states that we shall reach out and enter into successful competition in the markets of other parts of the world? I say what is to hinder this people, possessing by the providence of God, all the elements of material wealth; endowed with a genius and energy unsurpassed among the nations of the earth, shall again have on the great seas a merchant marine flying the flag of the common country and carrying its commerce into every sea and upholding its honor in every port?"

"I am glad to-day to stand for this moment among you and to express my sympathy with any and every interest that tends to develop you as a community, and to each of you as individuals. May peace, prosperity and social order dwell in all your families, and the fear and love of God in every home."
